The WCWA and Facebook

by Elizabeth Sier

There are two ways to communicate with fellow WCWA members on Facebook.

The OFFICIAL MEMBERS ONLY Facebook page is now titled Washington Civil War Association (WCWA). This page is for current (2013 & 2014) WCWA members only. Board meeting minutes and other "members only" information will be posted at this location. This page is where members can share our thoughts, or vent, about what is happening in the organization.

One item to note: if you use a Facebook alias (a name other than the name you register for WCWA membership) please let me know so I can note it and you will be less likely to be removed from the group.

At the November meeting, it was decided to remove all non-WCWA members from this page.

The WCWA Facebook page that is open to members and the public is now titled Pacific Northwest Civil War Reenactor's Forum. Coming events, past event photos, membership forms, and other public information can be shared here. This page is NOT for venting our thoughts or feelings about the organization, please.

Important Membership By-Law Changes

By Anna Flores

At the November WCWA Board meeting, held on November 16, two major changes were made to the membership renewal process in the WCWA By-Laws.

The first, membership applications and payments no longer will be sent to Unit Commanders. They will now be sent directly to the Treasurer, or Membership Coordinator if so delegated. For 2014, I, as incoming Treasurer, have delegated that process to Beth Sier as the 2014 Membership Coordinator.

The second, renewing membership fees received by the end of March will be at the current rates.

Renewing membership fees received after March 31 will increase by $5.

Also, all children under the age of 12, or children between 12 and 17 who are not entering the battle field, must have a completed Minor Membership & Liability Release forms for each child.

All renewing 2014 membership forms need to be received by the Membership Coordinator at least two weeks prior to your attendance of a major (WCWA Sponsored) event. This allows your membership form to be processed and included in the event roster which is sent to the event coordinators for registration which allows you to get into the event premises.

New 2014 Membership forms are available on the WCWA website and on Facebook. Unit Commanders have been sent a copy of the new forms as well.

You may also contact the Membership Coordinator directly for forms. You can find contact information in the Dispatch & on the WCWA website.

For members, you can read the details of the by-law changes in the recorded minutes of the November 2013 General Board meeting.

Membership Renewal, the Earlier the Better

by Elizabeth Sier

The WCWA membership year is January 1, through December 31.

Early renewal is appreciated and encouraged. As noted above, please send your 2014 WCWA Membership Forms and payments to me. I am tasked with processing your forms and checks within 15 days. I will be sending monthly rosters to unit commanders to notify them of their unit members. Forms are available on the WCWA website, on Facebook, and I can also send them out to you. You need to be sure to use only the new 2014 Membership forms as they have been updated due to the by-law changes discussed above.

For 2014, simple membership cards will be available for those who feel it is important to have one. Please so indicate your desire to have one in the comments section of the electronic registration page (when available) or on the top of your paper 2014 Membership form.

Please send me a stamped, self-addressed return envelope so that I can mail your card(s) to you once your membership has been completely processed.

My mailing and contact information is:

Thank you so much to those who have already sent in your forms and payments. We now are up to 88 members who have registered for 2014.

We are still working on the final development of the electronic registration system as well. We hope to be able to open this up to all members in January. For those of you who have been invited to test the system, and have not yet taken the opportunity, please take a few moments to enter your membership this month. I am available by phone for any assistance you might need.

Thoughts from Lt Colonel Alan Geho

by Alan Geho

I would like thank the members of the Army of the Columbia for selecting me to lead the battalion in the coming year. There are some great individuals I have asked to serve together with me as your battalion staff, John Strand , Adjutant; Ryan Wilder, Sergeant Major, Shane Colglazier and Jason Seger as Wing Commanders. Each of us is committed to serving you as servants of this Battalion. Our central premise is to that of building camaraderie and esprit de corps, to unify the battalion both on and off the field of battle.

As I stated at the beginning of the election: "Together, I hope to capitalize with each of you on the efforts of our past and move forward with passion and adventure that will be remembered. Join with me and let us take this journey together.

Hail Columbia!!

Yours in Service,

Lt Colonel Alan Marshall Geho

Thoughts from Lt Colonel Rob LeCocq

by Rob

I feel greatly honored to be the next Colonel of the great late Confederacy. Colonel Gulley has left me with a great organization on which to build and hopefully finally win the war. Tobey and I actually reenacted at the first event that the WCWA put on at Steilicoom. There have been a lot of changes since then, mostly for the better but there has been one thing that has remained constant. We have seen comrades that we like, love and respect come and go. My focus is to try and stop the going down the road part. It should be a priority for the WCWA board, the individual companies, and the brigade staffs to try and make this hobby the best it can be, so as to retain those that come into the club. We all are here for various reasons which makes this task not an easy one, but I feel that even the effort to accomplish retention carries the weight of "we care" to the individual. On my part, I want to bring "period fun" into the events, bring back several traditions that have melted away, and lastly allow the units the freedom to express their individual identities without criticism from those that see things differently. I really view one the strengths of the WCWA is that diversity of the units, be they military or civilian, allows a person to find what fits them.

I have a wonderful staff over me. That would be God and my wife.

I have a wonderful staff under me.

Chief of Inf.: Carnan Bergen, a great counter balance to myself, always hire someone better then you are.

Adjutant: Mark Williams, brings stability to the staff, I respect his opinions and dedication.

Sgt. Major: Mike Borden, the perfect "old grumpy" who did it in real life in the US Army.

It is my opinion that with a great group of guys like this, and don't forget I am getting advice from one of my longest and best friends, the ex colonel Gulley, we all can look forward to a great campaign season.

Most business should be handled through your unit commanders. As a military organization please use the chain of command. That which has to be handled by the brigade, can be addressed to me by calling me at home 360-380-6262. I prefer the phone, as petty complaints sound like petty complaints when one has to voice them directly. My e-mail address is COLROB58@YAHOO.COM (three of us on staff are 58 years old, sorry Mark).

In your service,
Lt. Colonel Rob LeCocq

Custard Filled Cornbread

Shared by Ann Clarke

A Rebel's Recipe-

Proud descendant of Noah A. Royer, 10th Va. Co. E "Peaked Mountain Grey's"

Custard Filled Cornbread

As this amazing bread bakes, a creamy, barely set custard makes a layer of filling in the middle.

2 cups milk

1 cup flour

1 ½ tablespoons white vinegar

¾ cup yellow cornmeal

2 eggs

1 teaspoon baking powder

3 tablespoons butter, melted,

½ teaspoon baking soda

3 tablespoons sugar

1 cup heavy cream or whipping cream

½ teaspoon salt

Butter an 8-inch square baking dish and place it in the oven. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F and let dish get hot while mixing batter. In a measuring cup combine milk and vinegar; let stand to sour the milk. In a mixing bowl, beat eggs with butter until well blended. Add sugar and salt. Stir in the soured milk. Sift together in a bowl the flour, cornmeal, baking powder, and baking soda, Add to egg mixture. Mix just until batter is smooth, with no lumps. Pour into heated dish then pour cream into center of batter. Do not stir. Place in oven and bake 45-55 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve warm. Makes 9 servings.

History Lesson-

During Colonial and Antebellum times acreage in corn exceeded that of any other crop. Southerners ate every possible variation, then found hundreds of other uses for corn, including a way to distill and drink it. Corn is still a major bread grain in the South, cooked in a skillet, pan or mold. Some popular corn foods are roasted ears, popcorn, hominy, grits, cornbread, dodgers, hoecake, johnny cake, pone, mushfritters, spoonbread, pudding, porridge, parched corn, fish frying batter, succotash and cornstarch.

The silk is the female part while the tassel is the male part.

Corn on the Cob Etiquette

"Corn may be eaten from the cob. Etiquette permits this method, but does not allow one to butter the entire length of an ear of corn and then gnaw it from end to end. To hold an ear of corn, if it is short one, by the end, with the right and bite from the ear is good form. A little doily or very small napkin is sometimes served with corn to fold about the end of the cob that is to be grasped by the hand, but this arrangement is as inconvenient as it is unnecessary."

PUGET SOUND CIVIL WAR ROUNDTABLE

On Thursday, December 12th, Rick Solomon will discuss George Sears Greene, the oldest general in the Army of the Potomac in 1862. A Rhode Islander and an 1823 West Point graduate, Greene left the Army in 1836 for a successful career as a civil engineer. Greene’s two great moments during the Civil War came at Antietam’s Dunkard Church and Gettysburg’s Culp’s Hill, where his lone brigade turned back a critical Confederate attack on the Baltimore Pike. After the war Greene returned to his engineering practice and lived to be 97 years old.

The PSCWRT provides a venue for enthusiasts to learn more about the American Civil War. We schedule presentations from a variety of historians, scholars and authors as well as promote the preservation of Civil War battlefields. Our monthly dinner meetings are held on the second Thursday of the month. We start with a social hour at 6:00, followed by dinner at 7:00 and program at 8:00. We meet at the China Harbor restaurant on Lake Union.
